Dear Peter,

Here's a little detail on the great value I'm experiencing, thanks to MILITEC-1.

I drive a 2-litre automatic Mondeo and regularly find myself driving to meetings in and around London in slow-moving traffic. As a result my fuel economy is pretty poor, and I used to get around 200 miles to the tank.

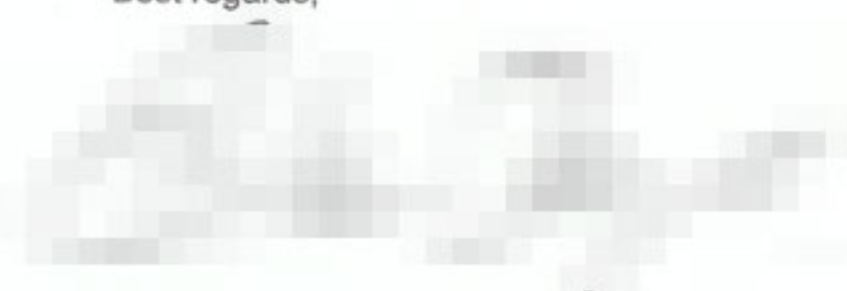

However, since putting MILITEC-1 into my engine, I now regularly get over 260 miles - that's an increase of 30%.

With a 50 litre tank, it's like getting 15 free litres - or an extra £14 in my pocket (at April 2006 prices) - every time I fill up. Thanks to the paltry sum I spent on MILITEC-1, this year alone I stand to save £360 at the very least on petrol costs.

There's also a certain satisfaction that comes from knowing my engine is now running smoother and my car's emissions are being reduced.

The MILITEC-1 that I put in my car paid for itself within a few weeks, and now it's effectively earning me money. You can't beat value like that.

Best regards,
